Part 1. Purpose

Subpart A. Acceptable use. This procedure establishes responsibilities for acceptable use of Northland Community and Technical College. System information technology resources are provided for use by currently enrolled System students, administrators, faculty, other employees, and other authorized users. System information technology resources are the property of Northland Community and Technical College, and are provided for the direct and indirect support of the System’s educational, research, service, student and campus life activities, administrative and business purposes, within the limitations of available System technology, financial and human resources. The use of Northland Community and Technical College’s information technology is a privilege conditioned on compliance with Policy 5.22, this procedure and any procedures or guidelines adopted pursuant to this procedure. The System encourages the use of information technology as an effective and efficient tool within the framework of applicable State and federal laws, policies and rules and other necessary restrictions.

Subpart B. Academic freedom. Nothing in this procedure shall be interpreted to expand, diminish or alter academic freedom, articulated under Board policy and System collective bargaining agreements, or the terms of any charter establishing a System library as a community or public library.

Part 2. Applicability

This procedure applies to all users of System information technology, whether or not the user is affiliated with Northland Community and Technical College, and to all uses of those resources, wherever located. This procedure establishes minimum requirements and Colleges and universities may adopt additional conditions of use, consistent with this procedure and Policy 5.22, for information technology resources under their control. Northland Community and Technical College is not responsible for any personal or unauthorized use of its resources, and security of data transmitted on its information technology resources cannot be guaranteed.

Part 3. Definitions

Subpart A. College or university. College or university, except where specified otherwise, means a System college or university, the Office of the Chancellor, or Northland Community and Technical College.

Subpart B. Security measures. Security measures means processes, software, and hardware used by system and network administrators to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the computer resources and data owned by the System or its authorized users. Security measures may include, but are not limited to, monitoring or reviewing individual user accounts for suspected policy violations and investigating security-related issues.

Subpart C. System. For purposes of this procedure, System means the Board of Trustees, the Office of the Chancellor, each colleges and university within the System, and any part or combination thereof.

Subpart D. System information technology. System information technology means all System facilities, technologies, and information resources used for information processing, transfer, storage and communications. This includes, but is not limited to, computer hardware and software, computer labs, classroom technologies such as computer-based instructional management systems, and computing and electronic communications devices and services, such as modems, e-mail, networks, telephones (including cellular), voicemail, facsimile transmissions, video, mobile devices, and multimedia materials.

Subpart E. Transmit. Transmit means to send, store, collect, transfer or otherwise alter or affect information technology resources or data contained therein.

Subpart F. User. User means any individual, including, but not limited to, students, administrators, faculty, other employees, volunteers, and other authorized individuals using System information technology in any manner, whether or not the user is affiliated with Northland Community and Technical College.
Part 4. Responsibilities of All Users.

Subpart A. Compliance with applicable law and policy.

1. Users must comply with laws and regulations, Board policies and System procedures, contracts, and licenses applicable to their particular uses. This includes, but is not limited to, the laws of libel, data privacy, copyright, trademark, gambling, obscenity, and child pornography; the federal Electronic Communications Privacy Act and the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, which prohibit “hacking” and similar activities; state computer crime statutes; student conduct codes; applicable software licenses; and Board policies 1.B.1, prohibiting discrimination and harassment; 1.C.2, prohibiting fraudulent or other dishonest acts; and 3.26, concerning intellectual property.

2. Users are responsible for the content of their personal use of System information technology, and may be subject to liability resulting from that use.

3. Users must use only system information technology they are authorized to use and use them only in the manner and to the extent authorized. Ability to access information technology resources does not, by itself, imply authorization to do so.

4. Users are responsible for use of System information technology under their authorization.

Subpart B. Unauthorized use. Users must abide by the security restrictions on all systems and information to which access is authorized.

1. Users must not:
   a. use any account or password assigned by the college or university to anyone else;
   b. share any account or password, assigned to the user by the college or university, with any other individual, including family members;
   c. allow others to use System information technology under the user’s control;
   d. use System cellular telephones or computer dial-up services for personal use unless specifically authorized by System or State policy or procedure.

2. Users must not circumvent, attempt to circumvent, or assist another in circumventing security controls in place to protect the privacy and integrity of data stored on System information technology.

3. Users must not change, conceal, or forge the identification of the person using System information technology, including, but not limited to, use of e-mail.

4. Users must not knowingly download or install software onto System information technology unless it has been preapproved through established campus or system office procedures, or by the designated officials, or prior authorization is received from the designated officials. Users who knowingly or negligently do not comply may be held responsible for damages, cost of system debugging, and payment of software fees, licenses and infringement penalties.

5. Users must not engage in activities that interfere with or disrupt network users, equipment or service; intentionally distribute viruses, worms, trojans, or other malicious code; or install software or hardware that permits unauthorized access to System information technology.

6. Users must not engage in inappropriate uses, including:
   a. activities that violate State or federal law or regulation;
   b. wagering or betting;
   c. harassment, threats to or defamation of others, stalking, and/or illegal discrimination;
   d. fund-raising, private business, or commercial activity, unless it is related to the mission of the System or its colleges and universities. Mission related activities are determined by Northland Community & Technical College administration, and include activities of authorized campus or System-sponsored organizations;
   e. storage, display, transmission, or intentional or solicited receipt of material that is or may be reasonably regarded as obscene, sexually explicit, or pornographic, including any depiction, photograph, audio recording, or written word, except as such access relates to the academic pursuits of a System student or professional activities of a System employee; and
   f. “spamming” through widespread dissemination of unsolicited and unauthorized e-mail messages.

Subpart C. Protecting privacy. Users must not violate the privacy of other users and their accounts, regardless of whether those accounts are securely protected. Technical ability to access others’ accounts does not, by itself, imply authorization to do so.
Subpart D. Limitations on use. Users must avoid excessive use of System information technology, including but not limited to network capacity. Excessive use means use that is disproportionate to that of other users, or is unrelated to academic or employment-related needs, or that interfere with other authorized uses. Colleges and universities may require users to limit or refrain from certain uses in accordance with this provision. The reasonableness of any specific use shall be determined by the college or university or Office of the Chancellor in the context of relevant circumstances.

Subpart E. Unauthorized trademark use. Users must not state or imply that they speak on behalf of the System or a college or university, and must not use System, college or university trademarks or logos without prior authorization. Affiliation with the System does not, by itself, imply authorization to speak on behalf of the System.

Part 5. System Employee Users.

All employees of Northland Community and Technical College are subject to Minnesota Statutes section 43A.38, the code of ethics for employees in the executive branch. In addition to compliance with that statute and this procedure, it is expected that employees will use the traditional communication rules of reasonableness, respect, courtesy, and common sense when using System information technology.

Subpart A. Personal use. In accordance with Minnesota Statutes section 43A.38, subdivision 4, System employees may make reasonable use of System information technology for personal communications as long as the use is in accordance with state law, Board policy and System procedures, and the use, including the value of employee time spent, does not result in an incremental cost to the State, or results in an incremental cost that is so small as to make accounting for it unreasonable or administratively impracticable, as determined by the Office of the Chancellor, college or university. Reasonable use means use consistent with this procedure.

Subpart B. Union activities. In the interest of maintaining effective labor-management relationships and efficient use of State time and resources, System e-mail systems may be used by employee representatives of the union for certain union activities, in accordance with State policy and/or the provisions of applicable collective bargaining agreements. System-owned property or service, including the e-mail system, may not be used for political activities, fund-raising, campaigning for union office, union organizing activities, or solicitation of employees for union membership. Union use of electronic communication technology is subject to the same conditions as employee use of such technology, as set forth in Policy 5.22 and this procedure, including security and privacy provisions.

Subpart C. Political activities. System employees shall not use System information technology for political activities prohibited by Minnesota Statutes sections 43A.32 or 211B.09, or other applicable State or federal law.

Subpart D. Religious activities. System employees shall not use System information technology in a manner that creates the impression that the System supports any religious group or religion generally in violation of the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment of the United States Constitution or Article 1, Section 16 of the Minnesota State Constitution.

Subpart A. Security. Users shall employ appropriate security practices, including the appropriate use of secure facsimiles or encryption or encoding devices, when electronically transmitting data that is not public.

Subpart B. Privacy. Data transmitted via System information technology are not guaranteed to be private. Deletion of a message or file may not fully eliminate the data from the system.

Subpart C. Right to employ security measures. The System reserves the right to employ security measures, including but not limited to the right to monitor any use of System information technology, including those used for personal purposes. Users have no expectation of privacy for any use of System technology resources, except as provided under federal wire tap regulations (21 U.S.C. sections 2701-2711).

The System does not routinely monitor individual usage of its information technology resources. Normal operation and maintenance of System information technology require the backup and caching of data and communications, the logging of activity, the monitoring of general usage patterns and other activities that are necessary for such services. When violations are suspected, appropriate steps shall be taken to investigate and take corrective action or other actions as warranted. System officials may access data on System information technology, without notice, for other business purposes including, but not limited to, retrieving business-related information, re-routing or disposing of undeliverable mail; or responding to requests for information permitted by law.

Subpart A. Data practices laws. Government data maintained on System information technology is subject to data practices laws, including the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act and the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, to the same extent as they would be if kept in any other medium. Users are responsible for handling government data to which they have access or control in accordance with applicable data practices laws.

Subpart B. Record retention schedules. Official college or university records created or maintained electronically are subject to the requirements of the Official Records Act, Minnesota Statutes section 138.17 to the same extent as official records in any other media. Official records must be retained in accordance with the applicable approved records retention schedule appropriate for the type, nature, and content of the record. Willful improper disposal of official records may subject an employee to disciplinary action.

Colleges and universities and the Office of the Chancellor, must adopt policies and procedures consistent with Policy 5.22 and this procedure:

a. for reporting possible illegal activities to appropriate authorities;
b. to implement state and System security policies, procedures, standards and guidelines to protect the integrity of System information technology and its users’ accounts;
c. to ensure that government data in electronic format is handled in accordance with its classification under the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act, Family Education Rights and Privacy Act, and other applicable law or policies;
d. to specify the name and contact information of the official to be contacted by users and others if they have questions, concerns or problems regarding the use of System information technology or concerning intended or unintended interruptions of service;
e. for reviewing requests to use the trademarks or logos of the college, university or Northland Community and Technical College; and
f. to provide information and education to users concerning applicable information technology policies and procedures;
g. for identifying the official(s) designated to make decisions regarding approved hardware or software use.

Conduct which involves the use of information resources to violate a System policy or procedure, or state or federal law, or to violate another’s rights, is a serious abuse subject to limitation or termination of user privileges and appropriate disciplinary action, legal action, or both.

Subpart A. Access Limitations. Northland Community and Technical College reserves the right to temporarily restrict or prohibit use of its System information technology by any user without notice, if it is determined necessary for business purposes.

Subpart B. Repeat violations of copyright laws. Northland Community and Technical College may permanently deny use of System information technology by any individual determined to be a repeat violator of copyright laws governing Internet use.

Subpart C. Disciplinary proceedings. Alleged violations shall be addressed through applicable System procedures, including but not limited to System Procedure 1.B.1.1 to address allegations of illegal discrimination and harassment; student conduct code for other allegations against students; or the applicable collective bargaining agreement or personnel plan for other allegations involving employees. Continued use of System information technology is a privilege subject to limitation, modification, or termination.

Subpart D. Sanctions. Willful or intentional violations of this policy are considered to be misconduct under applicable student and employee conduct standards. Users who violate this policy may be denied access to System information technology and may be subject to other penalties and disciplinary action, both within and outside of the System. Discipline for violations of this policy may include any action up to and including termination or expulsion.

Subpart E. Referral to Law Enforcement. Under appropriate circumstances, Northland Community and Technical College may refer suspected violations of law to appropriate law enforcement authorities, and provide access to investigative or other data as permitted by law.
